

Price: Rs. 16,999

RUPINPASS TREK

- The region involved:- Uttarakhand and Himachal
- Duration of the trek:- 8 Days
- Grade of the trek:- Difficult
- Maximum Altitude :- 15,250 Ft.
- Approximate Trekking distance:- 52 Kms.

Starting from Dhaula and ending at Sangla, the Rupin Pass trek shows many beautiful pictures in this whole journey. In every next step, you will get a surprise, and hence your excitement level will keep increasing. It is one of the most classic treks in India and comes up with several features.

There is a number of ridges you need to pass and with every passing ridge, you will see a great picture of mountains, some snowy and some green, birds chirping looks like they are talking to each other, green meadows which look more luxurious than any branded car, natural water flowing through streams is enough to capture your attention. To sum up, Rupinpass is a combination of and everything that a person needs to feel relax and peaceful.

Your trek will start from Dhaula and from there itself you will see several villages around you which depict a complete traditional picture. You will see people with benign nature and they will always pave the way for you in case of any need. Doesn't matter how far you will come across but you will always feel like the trek is far from over, and this shows that the place has never-ending beauty.

The trek is the most beautiful one but you may also find it difficult to pass. Therefore it is very important for you all to have a strong grip while walking through the trek. While trekking, you will find dense forests of pine trees, various flora and fauna, several beautiful colorful flowers blooming, Enchanting weather, and many more. A lot of part of this trek lies in the Himachal region. As it is one of the highest ascents, you need to be cautious all the time. This 8-day long trek will give a huge number of memories that you can cherish for a lifetime.

Rupin Pass trek is not only seen as a trek but as a great adventure too. People fond of adventure or trekking are heartily welcome. We provide the best facilities in the Rupin pass trek package. We have a great experience of conducting similar treks efficiently and hence you can rely on us without any doubt.

Before you come here have a look at some places you will cross during Rupin Pass Trek: Kinnaur Temple, Jhaka Village(hanging village), Kinner Kailash, Lush green forests and snow-capped mountains all around, and many more.

HOW TO REACH?

To reach this laudable place without any impede you may follow any of the following means:

By Air:

One of the best means is to come by flight. You can take a flight from Delhi to Dehradun's Jolly Grant Airport. From the airport, you need to reach the railway station of Dehradun, your pick-up point.

By Train:-

Trains are always easy to catch. Trains regularly run from Delhi to Dehradun. This will be easy as it will drop you at the Railway station itself, your pick-up point.

By Bus:-

Buses are also available all the time from Delhi to Dehradun. Your bus stop will be at ISBT, Dehradun. From ISBT, you have to reach Railway Station.

BRIEF ITINERARY:

Day 1: Dehradun to Sankri

Altitude: 6,400 feet

Distance: 220 km (drive)

Time: About 10 hours

You may face network issues in the village.

Day2:- Sankri to Dhaulta (Drive) and then trek to Sewa

Altitude: 5,500 ft to 6,300 ft

Distance: 26 km-drive; 9 km trek

Time: 1 hour-drive; 5 hours- trek

Grade of Trek: Moderate

Available network: BSNL

Day3:- Sewa to Batwa

Altitude: 6,300 ft to 6,888 ft

Distance: 6 km trek

Time: 4 hours

Grade of Trek: Moderate

Day4:- Bawta to Jakha

Altitude: 6,888 ft to 8,700 ft

Distance: 5 km trek

Time: 4 hours

Grade of Trek: Difficult

Day5:- Jakha to Dandreyash Thatch

Altitude: 8,700 ft to 11,680 ft

Distance: 11 km trek

Time: 8 hours

Grade of Trek: Easy & long

Day6:- Dandreyash Thatch to Upper Waterfall

Altitude: 11,680 ft to 13,120 ft

Distance: 3.5 km trek

Time: 3.5 hrs

Day7:- Upper Waterfall to Ronti Gad, by crossing Rupin Pass

Altitude: 13,120 ft to 13,420 ft

Distance: 9 km trek

Time: 10 hrs

Grade of Trek: Difficult

Day8:- Ronti gad to Sangla & then Drive to Shimla

Altitude: 13,420 ft to 8,800 ft

Distance: 12 km trek

Time: 8 hours and 9-10 hours drive

DETAILED ITINERARY

DAY 1: Dehrdun to Sankri (6,400 feet)

On your first day, your target will be to arrive at Sankri from Dehradun. Sankri is about 220 km away from Dehradun. It will take approx 9-10 hours to reach Sankri. As you will move forward you will see various beautiful scenes of nature. Amazing sights of hills and forests will make you fall in love with the place. Though the distance is so far amidst nature you will not even realize that you have reached the destination.

You will see various villages during the journey like Mori, which is famous for green meadows all around with colorful flowers blooming. Roads to the Sankri are almost in good condition but somewhere you may find difficulty inroads. You will have your lunch on the way. As and when you will reach Sankri, your mobile phones might not be able to get a network. So, you may talk to your family before reaching Sankri. Stay overnight in a hotel in Sankri.

DAY 2: Sankri to Dhaula (Drive) and then trek to Sewa (5,500 ft to 6,300 ft)

Your day two will be to Dhaula and then to Sewa. You will move Dhaula from Sankri by drive. And then from Dhaula to Sewa, you will trek for about 5 hours. This is your first trek out of the Rupin Pass Trek. The trek is an easy walk so you will not feel much tired. The trek will be full of amazing sights. When you will move from Dhaula you will climb for 200 meters and then there is an easy walk. As you will move towards Sewa, you will get to see various sights of Rupin Pass. In your trek, you will see various apple and apricot trees. The view is completely enchanting and you will love it for sure. There are small shops in the way you may enjoy tea there.

Finally, after reaching Sewa, you will see the famous Kinnaur Temple. You may explore the temple. You will see traditional touch in everything present here. You will camp over there between the mountains and will enjoy the most.

DAY 3: Sewa to Bawta (6,300 ft to 6,888 ft)

On your third day, you will trek to Bawta from Sewa. The distance is 6 km which will take about 4 hours. As this is your second trek of the journey, this is of quite a moderate grade. During your whole trek, the team will always instruct you about how to approach the moderate to difficult trek. But you will always need to be careful and maintain unity among the teammates. In this trek also you will see various amazing sights of nature one after the other. You will see crop fields, dense forests, meadows, small villages, water streams, and many more.

Soon you will be crossing a dense forest which will lead you to a wooden bridge that separates or you may say which connects the two states. The name of the bridge is 'No man's Place'. The bridge has such a name because it does belong to either of the states.

After some time you will reach Bawta and will reside there in tents overnight.

DAY 4: Bawta to Jakha (6,888 ft to 8,700 ft)

Your fourth day's goal is to reach Jakha which is 5 km away from Bawta. You will trek for four hours. After completing this trek you might feel much tired as you need to cross the highest as well as the final village of the trek. Without any doubt, you need to be well-prepared for this trek.

The trek is zig-zag, somewhere descent and somewhere ascent, but you will enjoy it the most. There you will come across several water streams, so make sure to fill your water bottles.

Overall, this trail will surely make you happier and feel stronger. After reaching Jakha, you will reside in your respective tents. You will have a great sleep after this trek.

DAY 5: Jakha to Dandreyash Thatch (8,700 ft to 11,680 ft)

Your fifth day will be a trek to Dandreyash Thatch. It is 11 km away. This day's trek is slightly longer so you need to wake up early. Also, you will get to see an amazing sunrise. You will go through various passes and forests. As you will move forward you will pass forests and snow-covered landscapes. You will a snow bridge and after crossing this bridge you will see a narrow trail following which you will reach another wooden bridge.

After walking for some time you will soon enter another forest which will be full of Rhododendron trees. Soon you will reach Saruwas Thatch where you can relax and explore.

From here you will see a valley surrounded by trees and a Rupin Waterfall. The valley is beautifully designed by the nature. After moving forward you will see snow-covered mountains making the place more amazing.

After the descent trail, you will reach the valley, Dhanderas Thatch. After reaching there, you can explore the place and can play games. This is the best time to enjoy yourself up to the hilt. Make sure to make new friends and enjoy yourself with them.

DAY 6: Dandreyash Thatch to Upper Waterfall (11,680 ft to 13,120 ft)

Your sixth day will be a trek to Upper Waterfall. It will be a 3.5 km trek. As you will have to reach a little bit higher in this trek, you must be careful at every moment to avoid any difficulty due to altitude. Team members will always help you whenever needed. You may experience sliding on snow, sidestepping during this part of the trek. Hence, it will prove to be a great adventure for you.

Before reaching the campsite you will have to walk along the hills and through snow-covered paths. You will also see various marigold flowers which give a mesmerizing look to the sight.

Soon you will discover a snow bridge that will be short but sharp. After crossing this snow bridge, you will reach your campsite. Stay in tents and enjoy the sleep.

DAY 7: Upper Waterfall to Ronti Gad, by crossing Rupin Pass (13,120 ft to 13,420 ft)

You will head towards Ronti Gad on your seventh day. It is a 9 km trek and the level of trek is difficult. In this way, you will discover completely different sights of the place. The path is covered with snow and that too a thick one so you must walk carefully. You may feel exhausted during the trek as it is difficult but amazing too. You will be given refreshments amid the trek to boost your energy level.

Your way to Rupin Pass is short in distance but is risky too. The stones of the hills are loose and have the chance of falling down so you need to move carefully.

Soon after crossing Rupin Pass, your next adventure will start which will take you to Ronti Gad. The way to Ronti Gad is an easy walk. It will be your campsite for the day.

This campsite is the coldest so you need to wear your warm clothes. Enjoy your time in the most refreshing campsite and have a healthy sleep.

DAY 8: Ronti gad to Sangla & then Drive to Shimla (13,420 ft to 8,800 ft)

On this day you will move to Sangla and then drive to Shimla. This day's trial will be down but still, you need to be careful.

Your trek will start with a mild climb which will soon turn to an easy walk. Soon after walking for some time, you will find yourself between the beautiful views of Mt. Kinner Kailash.

From this point, you can have a sight of the Lake of Sangla Kanda. You will also see various small villages. You can take a rest in the village and can explore the place. path You will then move ahead to Sangla by the path covered with Blue Pines. After crossing the trail, you will reach Baspa Village and soon you will be at the end of the trail. From Sangla, you will drive to Shimla.

